GOOD ADVICE.
 Cardinal Gibbons' wide experience gives his opinion on almost any subject what might properly be termed an "intrinsic value." In addressing a New Orleans audience some time ago he said:
 "I had one piece of advice to give a public man more than another, it is to be frank with the reporter. It has been my privilege and pleasure to contact with and to know a great number of reporters. I have standardized a policy of absolute frankness with them, and I have never had a confidence betrayed. They have never proved themselves unworthy of the estimate I placed on them as gentlemen.
 "It is the public man who conceals, whose every act of concealment is perceived by the reporters—for, in the nature of their business, they must be quick to penetrate. It is this very concealment which induces the reporter to further conduct his investigation and often to get wrong what, had he been in the confidence of the man whose manner had provoked investigation, he would have understood and written intelligently about. And it is in this very manner that much of the complaint against the reporters originates. Tell the reporters the absolute truth. Never deceive them."
 This will no doubt appear strange to those persons, who, through ignorance, prejudice or for very obvious reasons are pleased to consider the newspaper reporter an unmitigated nuisance. Cardinal Gibbons' advice, which is the result of experience, and is in no sense theoretical, means something. Of course there are men in the journalistic profession who are neither trustworthy nor honest. There are men of this class in all professions and callings.
 They are, however, the exception and not the rule, and few men can point to instances in which their confidence has been betrayed by a newspaper man.
 When a man's actions have placed him beneath the searchlight of public opinion it is the reporter's duty to find out, as far as possible, the truth. If he is met with rebuffs and snubs he becomes, almost unconsciously perhaps, the enemy of the man who has snubbed him, for after all the newspaper man is only human. If public men (and private ones too, for that matter) would only realize this fact and meet the reporter on a plain, practical business basis, the work of the latter would be much less disagreeable and fewer persons would have reason for considering themselves aggrieved at the hostile tone of articles appearing in the press of the country.

It Will Float You.
 Many people plunged into the ocean of misfortune, would sink if they hadn't some real estate to float them. Every rightly made man has a banking after real estate—it's an instinct that goes with men, and it is something that is within the reach of all. Contradict small payments will eat up the largest amount—and the small payments won't amount to any more than you pay for foolishness.
 Think it over.
WHY ?
 Do you let your money lay in Banks, Stocks and Bonds at 3 and 4 per cent. interest
 when you can get a solid real estate investment in Newport News, pay-
